Session Forty: The Gospel of Matthew
Jesus is King

Homework for the book of Malachi: Because this is the beginning of a new set, homework review may not be appropriate if time has passed since completion of the last set and students do not have their workbooks with them.

Pages 154-155: What was the sin of the people?
Pages 156-157: What was the attitude of the people?

Oral Review:
The Story So Far:
The Pentateuch:

- God created all things and blessed Adam and Eve with the whole world except the fruit from one tree.
- They disobeyed and from that sin entered the world.
- As evil became rampant, God raised up Abraham and gave him three promises: many descendants, land, and that one of his descendants would be a blessing to the whole world.
- Abraham’s grandson had twelve sons that would become the twelve tribes of Israel.
- As the family increased greatly they became slaves in Egypt.
- God raised up Moses to lead the people from Egypt to Mt Sinai where God gave civil laws, moral laws, and laws for worship.
The Kingdom Books:

- Joshua led them to conquer the land and divided it into twelve areas, one for each of the sons of Jacob.
- For 350 years Israel was a theocracy in which God would raise up judges to lead the people.
- Then the people demanded a king.
- The first king was Saul, then David, followed by Solomon.
- Solomon’s son saw the division of the nation due to his unwise decisions.
- The Northern Kingdom, Israel, was at first ruled by Jeroboam and consisted of ten tribes. Israel had 19 kings but none were considered good. Two religious areas were established and golden calves were worshiped.
- The Southern Kingdom, Judah, was ruled at first by Rehoboam. They had 20 kings and only about 8 were considered good kings. The period of the divided kingdom was about 350 years.
- In the end, Israel was conquered by Assyria in 722 BC and Judah was conquered by Babylon in 586 BC.

Post Exilic Books:

- God had promised the prophet Jeremiah that the people would be in exile for 70 years.
- At the end of that time, they were allowed to return.
- They built the temple and then years later built the wall around the city.
- It was also during this time that God sent priests to build up the people spiritually.
- The history of Israel ends with the book of Nehemiah.

Poetical Books:

- The Poetical Books do not add to the history of Israel but fit into the historical books.
- Job deals with the sovereignty of God and the suffering of man.
- Psalms is a Jewish hymnbook, beautiful poetry written to be accompanied by music.
- Proverbs and Ecclesiastes are books of wisdom.
- Song of Solomon exalts romantic and sensual marriage.

The Prophetical Books:

- All were written to warn the people that their sin was leading to God’s wrath.
- God loved them and wanted them to turn from their evil ways.
- Prophets also told the future in clear language.
- Many of the prophecies have some true, just as God said.
- There are still many prophesies that will be fulfilled when Christ returns.
The Major Prophets:
- Are major because they are longer.
- Isaiah spoke to both Israel and Judah, while Jeremiah wrote during the last days before Jerusalem was destroyed.
- Daniel and Ezekiel both lived in Babylon and prophesied to the exiles living there.

Early Minor Prophets:
- Are shorter books but still have a great impact.
- They were all probably written before the fall of Israel in 722 BC.
- Hosea and Amos were written to Israel.
- Micah and Joel were written to Judah.
- Obadiah was written to Edom and Jonah to Nineveh.

The Later Minor Prophets:
- The six Later Minor Prophets were all written after the fall of Israel.

Nahum:
- Was written about 120 years after Jonah had delivered his message to Nineveh, the capital of Assyria.
- At that time Nineveh experienced a mighty revival and the nation was spared the wrath of God.
- They would conquer Israel during this less cruel period.
- They returned to their very evil ways.
- Nahum does not offer consolation but simply says “God will destroy you” for their arrogance, wickedness and idolatry.
- This message, however, would bring comfort to Judah (Nahum means comfort) who lived under the shadow of fear from the Assyrians.

Habakkuk:
- Was written to Judah just a few years before the Babylonians conquered Jerusalem and Judah.
- He had seen the evil in Judah and it grieved him so he asked God to do something about it.
- God’s answer was not what he was expecting.
- God was going to bring a nation that was worse that Judah to conquer them.
- Habakkuk questioned God with honesty, but concluded that God is good and He can be trusted even when we do not understand His ways.

Zephaniah:
- Was written to Judah during King Josiah’s reign to warn the people that the day of the Lord was coming and God would judge Judah and other nations for their sins.
- But the Day of the Lord would also include blessings and peace.

Haggai:
- Preached to the exiles who had returned to Jerusalem to encourage them to consider their ways and get back to work rebuilding the temple.
- His message was given during the time of Zerubbabel in the book of Ezra.

Zechariah:
- Was a contemporary of Haggai.
- Through a series of eight visions, four messages and two burdens, he described a future that includes God’s victory for Judah and Christ’s second coming.
Malachi:
- Was a contemporary of Nehemiah and prophesied to the people in Jerusalem about 100 years after the exile.
- He was the last writing prophet to the Jews.

Mark is a fast-paced book that shows Jesus as the Suffering Servant and is written to the Roman audience. It is the gospel of the “strenuous life.” It does not have a birth or genealogy and very few parables or sermons. The key word is “immediately” as he was showing the work and servanthood of the Lord.
